

A larger ship will in most cases offer greater transport efficiency – “Efficiency of Scale” effect. A larger ship can transport more cargo at the same speed with less power per cargo unit. Limitations may be met in port handling.

Regression analysis of recently built ships show that a 10% larger ship will give about 4-5% higher transport efficiency.

MORE INFO

BACK